What You'll Learn in This Article:

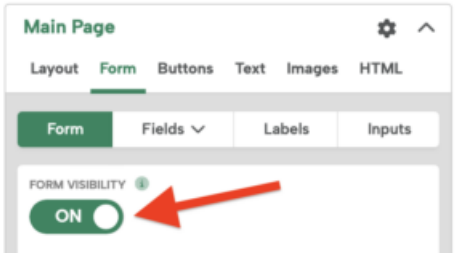

- How to ensure your form's submit button is correctly configured.
- The importance of activating your form for proper functionality.
- Why including an email field is crucial for form submissions.
- Steps to take if your form still isn't submitting after these checks.

To troubleshoot a form that isn't submitting, please take a look at the items below and make sure you are all good:

- Make sure you have a button added to your pop up and the button action when clicked is set to submit form.

- Make sure your form visibility is turned on.

- While there are some exceptions, forms generally require an email address to submit. Make sure the email field is turned on.
