

How do I enable or disable email notifications?

Last Modified on 06/10/2026 11:02 pm EDT

Digioh has a few different email notifications that it sends automatically. To disable these notifications, please see below.

Account Notification Emails

1. To disable notifications on the account level, log in to Digioh and select Notifications from the account dropdown:

2. You can then modify the notification settings for the email sent to the account owner:

Submission Notifications

Real Time Notifications

☐ Send to: hassan@digioh.com

You will receive an email for every Submission. This can result in many emails, so we recommend using the Daily Digest instead.

Daily Digest Notifications

☐ Send to: hassan@digioh.com

You will receive a single email every day, showing the total daily conversions. If unchecked, notifications will also be turned off for additional emails below.

Individual User Notification Emails

Along with the notifications that are sent to the account owner, individual sub-users in an account also have their own notification settings that can be modified.

1. In Digioh, select 'Users' from the Account Dropdown:
