What you'll learn

- How to make pop-up campaign overlays transparent
- How to use the transparency slider

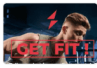

The overlay behind your pop-up campaigns can be set as a solid color or made transparent. To make the overlay transparent, follow these steps.

Giving your Pop-Up a Transparent Overlay

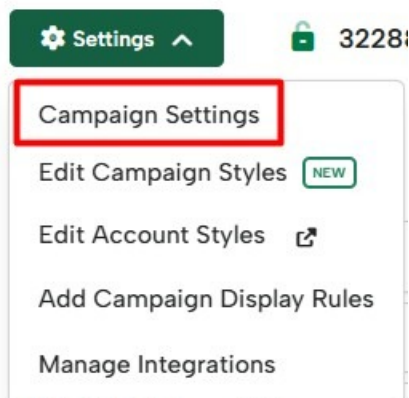

1. Log into Digioh and pick a pop-up campaign to edit:

The screenshot shows the Digioh dashboard with a navigation bar at the top containing 'Boxes', 'Reporting', 'A/B Testing', 'Integrations', 'Admin', and 'New Themes'. On the left sidebar, there are buttons for 'Create New Box', 'Create New Quiz', and 'Publish All'. The main area is titled 'Current Boxes' and features a notification: 'There have been changes since your last publish. Publish All'. Below this, there are filter options and a 'Reorder Boxes' button. A table lists four campaigns:

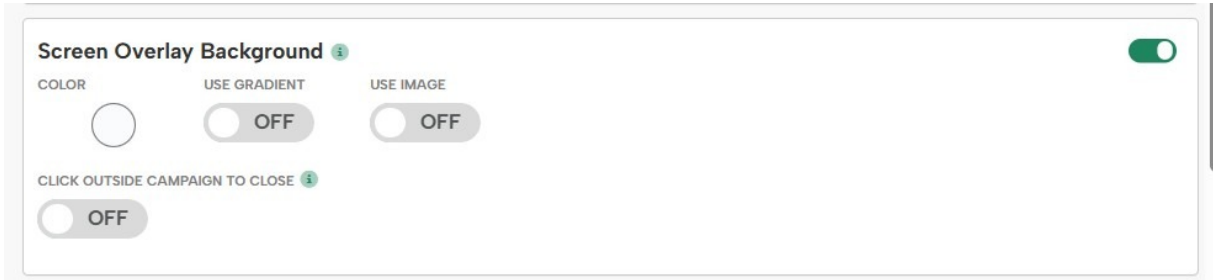

Thumbnail	Campaign Name	ID#	Breakpoints	Impressions	Conditions	Status	Actions
	Full Screen Zero Party Data Multi-step Popup (Spa)	291096	Lightbox Breakpoints: mobile		Edit	Not Published	OFF, Edit, ...
	Full Screen Zero Party Data Multi-step Popup	290983	Lightbox Breakpoints: mobile	64	Edit	Not Published	OFF, Edit, ...
	Promo Countdown Timer Popup (Fitness)	290982	Lightbox Breakpoints: mobile	57	+ Add	Not Published	OFF, Edit, ...
	Full Screen Zero Party Data Multi-step Popup (Fitness)	290975	Lightbox Breakpoints: mobile	36	Edit	Not Published	OFF, Edit, ...

2. Open the Campaign Settings via the Settings dropdown in top-right of the editor:

The screenshot shows a 'Settings' dropdown menu in the top-right corner of the editor. The menu is open, and the 'Campaign Settings' option is highlighted with a red box. Other options include 'Edit Campaign Styles' (with a 'NEW' badge), 'Edit Account Styles', 'Add Campaign Display Rules', and 'Manage Integrations'. The user's account number '32281' is visible in the top-right corner.

3. Enable the Screen Overlay Background settings:

4. Click the Color field to bring up the color palette.

5. Adjust the Opacity slider to modify the overlay's transparency. Click "choose" to save your selection.

6. Once you're satisfied with your settings, you can click anywhere outside the palette to save and close the settings.

7. Click Save and Preview to test your overlay, or Save and Publish to push your changes to your site.
